

Imam Raza (as) is also known as Imam-e-Zaamin (as).

Zaamin means "The Guarantor"

One day when Imam Raza (as) was on his historical journey from Madina to Marw (Khurasan), while in a jungle Imam Raza (as) came across a hunter  who was about to kill a deer.  The deer was trying to get away and when she saw Holy Imam Raza (as), she said something to him. Holy Imam Raza (as) asked the hunter to free the deer so that she could go and feed her little baby deer  who were very hungry. Imam Raza (as) also told the hunter that once the deer had fed her babies she would come back. The hunter allowed the deer to go because Holy Imam Raza (as) had told him to, but he did not think the deer will come back. But Imam Raza (as) waited with the hunter until the deer returned with her young ones. The hunter was amazed on witnessing this miraculous event and he set the deer free as a mark of respect for Imam Raza (as). After this historical event Imam Raza (as) became famous as Imam-e-Zaamin (as).
